Product Description

Custom Foldable Cardboard 2mm thickness material Magnetic Kraft Packaging Box Folding Gift Boxes Paper Box For Gift

The gift box is made of 1200mm cardboard and 157gsm art paper, which ensure the durability and luxury of the gift box. 1200mm cardboard is a type of thick cardboard commonly used to protect packaged goods or as container. 157gsm art paper is a high-quality paper suitable for creating excellent works, with good printing effects and texture.

According to customer preferences, magnetic folding gift boxes can be customized in size, color, and logo printing to create unique and personalized gift packaging. This customized service can meet the needs of different customers and enhance product value. Through professional design and printing techniques, various complex luxury packaging structures can be achieved.

This gift box offers multiple shipping options, from express delivery to sea freight, ensuring timely delivery. The design of the folding gift box makes it occupy less space during transportation and storage, making it easy to carry and use. In addition, due to its good quality and stable structure, it can prevent damage to the gift box caused by compression during transportation.

The gift box features black printing and white font, matte film coating, and black interior, all of which enhance the presentation effect of the gift. High quality paper and professional printing technology ensure excellent printing quality, making gift boxes visually more attractive. This gift box ensures durability, luxury, and personalization by using high-quality materials, eco-friendly materials, customized design, convenient transportation options, and excellent printing quality, making it an excellent gift packaging solution.
