Product Description

Super Soft 100% Virgin Wood Pulp Tissue Paper 3ply Disposable Facial Tissue Paper With Custom Logo

High quality facial tissues typically have the following characteristics:

Excellent material quality:

Natural raw materials: using natural fibers such as wood pulp and bamboo pulp as raw materials. Native wood pulp is made by extracting fibers from wood and is a pure, non recycled, unused wood pulp that is additive free and not easily allergenic; Bamboo pulp is processed from bamboo and is more environmentally friendly. The bamboo quinone components rich in bamboo also have natural antibacterial effects.

No harmful additives: No harmful substances such as chemical bleaching agents, fluorescent agents, whitening agents, etc. are added. These chemicals may cause irritation to the skin and even harm physical health.

Comfortable hand feel:

Good softness: It feels delicate and soft to the touch, and does not cause friction or discomfort when in contact with facial skin, providing gentle care for the facial skin.

Uniform texture: The tissue has a uniform texture without clumping, graininess, or other issues, and will not scratch the skin during use.

Good water absorption: It has good water absorption performance and can quickly absorb facial moisture, such as sweat, clean water, etc., and will not easily break or fall apart after absorbing moisture.

Good toughness: The ratio of plant long fibers to plant short fibers is reasonable, and slight pulling can cause wrinkles, but it will not easily break. It has good toughness and can meet daily use needs.

No shedding: There will be no shedding during use, avoiding paper scraps from remaining on the face and affecting the user experience and facial cleaning.

Health and safety:

Packaging sealing: Using sealed packaging can effectively prevent external pollutants such as dust and bacteria from entering, maintaining the hygiene of tissues.

Compliant with standards: Compliant with relevant hygiene standards and quality certifications, the production process undergoes strict quality control, making it more reassuring to use.

Appropriate size: The size is moderate, convenient to use and carry. It can meet the needs of facial cleaning without causing waste due to its large size.
