Product Description

Customized Logo Soft Skin Caring Tissue Paper Napkin Facial Tissue In Bag For Hotel Home

The widespread use of tissues includes the following aspects:

1, Personal care

Facial cleansing:

After daily face washing, it can be used to dry facial moisture. Its soft texture does not irritate the skin and can quickly absorb moisture, keeping the face dry.

For makeup enthusiasts, facial tissues can gently press and absorb excess oil and residue from the face before applying makeup, making the makeup look more long-lasting and clean.

When removing makeup, it can be used in conjunction with makeup remover products to help remove facial makeup, which is more delicate than ordinary toilet paper and reduces friction on the skin.

Body cleansing:

After exercise, it can be used to wipe away sweat from the body, and its good water absorption can quickly absorb sweat, keeping the body comfortable.

When traveling outdoors, if you don't have water to wash your hands, you can use facial tissues for simple hand cleaning to remove dust and dirt from your hands.

Oral and nasal care:

Frequent wiping of the nose is inevitable when suffering from a cold or allergy. High quality facial tissues are soft and less likely to cause skin pain or peeling, making them more friendly to the skin around the nasal cavity.

In dusty environments, it can be used to cover the mouth and nose to reduce the inhalation of dust.

2, Maternal and Child Care

Baby care:

Baby's skin is delicate, and facial tissues are an ideal choice for wiping their face, mouth, and hands. Its gentle and non irritating properties can effectively protect the baby's skin.

When a baby is spitting milk or drooling, it is recommended to use a facial tissue to wipe it off in a timely manner to keep the baby's face clean and dry.

When changing diapers, you can also gently wipe the baby's buttocks with a facial tissue before proceeding with subsequent care.

Maternal care:

Pregnant women's skin may be more sensitive, and facial tissues can be used for daily facial cleansing and body wiping to reduce skin irritation.

After childbirth, facial tissues can be used to wipe away secretions such as lochia, and their soft texture can reduce friction on sensitive areas of the mother's body.

3, Beauty field

Makeup assistance:

When making up, you can gently cover the face with a facial tissue on the face with liquid foundation, and then gently tap the tissue with a makeup brush dipped in loose powder to set the makeup and make the makeup more lasting and natural.

When painting eye shadow, powder blusher and other powder makeup, if you accidentally shake your hands and apply too much, you can gently wipe with a facial tissue to adjust the makeup intensity.

Beauty tool cleaning:

After using tools such as makeup brushes and makeup eggs, residual makeup on the surface can be wiped off with facial tissues, and then cleaned to extend the service life of the tools.

4, Office space

Cleaning office supplies:

Can be used to wipe office supplies such as computer screens, keyboards, mice, etc., remove dust and stains, and maintain a clean office environment.

For people who often need to write or draw, facial tissues can be used to wipe pen tips, erasers, and other tools to keep them clean and in good condition.

Emergency Management:

If you accidentally scratch your fingers or other small wounds with paper while working, you can use facial tissues for simple bandaging to stop bleeding and wait for further treatment.

When drinks or coffee are spilled on the desk, facial tissues can quickly absorb the liquid and prevent the spread of stains.

5, Catering industry

Customer Service:

In restaurants, cafes, and other places, facial tissues can be provided for customers to wipe their mouths and hands, improving service quality and customer satisfaction.

For some high-end restaurants, facial tissues with brand logos are also used to enhance brand image and customers' dining experience.

Employees use:

Restaurant employees also frequently use facial tissues during work, such as wiping utensils and cleaning work surfaces.

6, Travel and travel

Portable cleaning:

Facial tissues are small in size, lightweight, and easy to carry, making them a must-have item for travel. Can be used for facial cleansing, wiping sweat, etc. at any time during the journey.

Facial tissues can be used to clean small tables, windows, etc. on trains, airplanes, and other transportation vehicles to maintain personal hygiene.

Emergency care:

If you encounter minor accidents such as abrasions or scrapes during travel, you can use facial tissues for simple wound treatment to prevent infection.

7, Other fields

Artistic Creation:

In some artistic creations, such as painting, handmade crafts, etc., facial tissues can be used to wipe paint, adjust visual effects, etc.

Artists can also fold and cut facial tissues to create unique works of art.

Pet care:

You can use facial tissues to wipe your pet's eyes, mouth, and other areas to keep them clean and hygienic.

After your pet goes out, you can use facial tissues to wipe their paws to remove dirt and dust.
